

EntoSynergy B2B

EntoSynergy B2B is a business program oriented mainly towards our customers' needs. We know well what are you searching for – more confidence in the business processes, flexible delivery and payment models, punctuality, correctness, adequate personal services, long-term stability and prospects, etc.

EntoSynergy B2B is the complete solution including all of the abovementioned for our customers. We want to become more than a trading company and a quality food manufacturer. We want to establish a stable long term business environment.

For the business:

- Free deliveries
- Delayed payment
- Deposit accounts and legitimation cards for your employees for purchases in EntoSynergy store and warehouse

For the seller:

- Personal account manager
- New products presentation
- Trainings and presentations of our products for your employees – so you know what you sell to your customers
- Expert technical consultation for the products
- Information for unavailable products
- Reservation of products
- Marketing services – ad campaigns, sales organization, etc.

How you can become a part of EntoSynergy B2B?

The answer is simple – just start working with us. We do not want just to sell you a product, we want you to become our long-term partner.
